

Camp Tawonga 2027 Summer Lineup

Frequently Asked Questions

Why is Tawonga changing the summer schedule?

Our goal is to create a summer structure that works well for our community. Over the past several years, we've seen changes in school calendars and demand for various program lengths. For example, demand for two-week programs has grown considerably. At the same time, summer is getting shorter. Schools are ending later and starting earlier, which has made the beginning and end of our summer increasingly challenging. Our staff, largely college students, grapple with finals overlapping with the start of summer camp, making their availability limited as they finish their studies.

The 2027 calendar makes this especially noticeable. Because Memorial Day falls on May 31, this pushes our entire schedule a full week later than in 2026. Maintaining our current summer program structure would push the end of camp well into August and would mean many campers would have to choose between camp and their first week or two of school.

How did Tawonga decide on this session structure?

Tawonga used this streamlined session structure for many years prior to COVID. In 2021, we intentionally changed our model to reduce camper turnover and the number of arrivals and departures. Then, beginning in 2022, due to demonstrated demand, we created a structure with shorter sessions embedded within longer sessions. That model was what Tawonga needed at that moment.

However, as campers and staff grapple with shorter summers, we've learned that a more streamlined structure will better serve our campers, families, and staff.

Why aren't one- and two-week sessions embedded within longer sessions anymore?

Community is one of the most important aspects of a session at Tawonga. With embedded shorter sessions inside a longer session, campers were ending their session before the rest of the community, or starting once the community had already been established. A streamlined structure means that campers in a session start together, experience the session together, and end together. This structure also helps us recruit, hire, train, and retain excellent staff – which ultimately improves the camper experience.

Why is the In-Training program only three weeks?

We have returned the In-Training schedule back to its three-week format, overlapping with Taste of Camp and Session 2. This schedule was a successful format for nearly 20 years. By shifting our calendar to overlap two shorter sessions, it enables the In-Training participants to work with campers who are significantly younger than them, which deepens their learning experience.

When can I learn more and register?

We'll share additional details about programs, fees, and registration later this fall.

We're sharing the 2027 dates early so that families have plenty of time to plan with bunkmates, coordinate school and family calendars, and get excited for another summer at Tawonga!
